

The coordinated, managed approach to treating injuries and reducing costs.

At Mills-Peninsula, the goal of our Injured Worker Services is to provide the highest quality care - at the lowest possible cost.

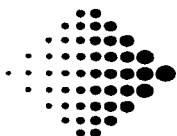

- Individualized treatment plans involving physician, employer, insurance carrier, therapists and injured worker
- Up-to-date status reports
- Job descriptions and job site analysis
- Single care coordinator
- Comprehensive documentation, including standardized, reproducible tests
- Medical/legal, return-to-work and permanent disability evaluations.

Call for more information.

415 696-5395

Vocational services in a medical setting®

Injured Worker Services
Mills-Peninsula
Center for Rehabilitation

Reader Service #13

©1989 Mills-Peninsula Hospitals

LETTERS

Readers' praise

I had not read your journal for some time and am impressed with the quality of the varied articles. Prior to becoming an administrator, my clinical supervision of students was in rehabilitation settings. For me it was a real pleasure and joy to read the journal, and I will encourage our faculty to do the same.

Marie F. Spruck, EdD RN
Assistant Dean, Undergraduate Program
Professor of Nursing
University of Cincinnati Medical Center
College of Nursing and Health
Cincinnati, OH

Thank you for the complimentary copy of the publication Rehabilitation Nursing. I was especially pleased to learn about the article submitted by my colleague, Jeanne Quint Benoliel, entitled "Ethical Perspective: In Favor of Autonomy." The case which was cited regarding the quadriplegic patient raises a number of important ethical considerations, and Dr. Benoliel's comments were expressed in a clear, concise, and analytic manner.

I appreciate your calling this article to my attention. Best wishes at your work. I am appreciative of your role in including ethically relevant literature in Rehabilitation Nursing.

Thomas R. McCormick, DMin
Department of Medical History and Ethics
School of Medicine
University of Washington
Seattle, WA

A writer's thanks

Thank you for your cooperation and assistance in rewriting and editing my article ["Developing Case Managers in a Rehabilitation Unit," in this issue]. Everyone has been extremely helpful. This certainly has been an exciting time for me. I look forward to the January-February issue as I do all issues. I read them from cover to cover and share them with my entire staff.

Mary S. Ginder, BSN RN CRRN
Head Nurse, Rehabilitation Unit
Lancaster General Hospital
Lancaster, PA

CLASSIFIEDS

REHABILITATION NURSES

Tennessee has a sparkling new, ready-for-occupancy January '90, freestanding physical rehabilitation hospital in Chattanooga. Promoting an atmosphere of *Caring People. Changing Lives*SM, we invite you to become a member of a team of committed healthcare professionals—as which you will be able to expand and develop specialized skills. Opportunities at all levels, including quality assurance, inservice education, infection control, and code arrest. Send résumé to Nancy Davis, MS RN, Director, Nursing Services, Siskin Hospital for Physical Rehabilitation, 529 Oak Street, Chattanooga, TN 37403, or call 615/265-2200.

REHABILITATION NURSE MANAGERS

Texas healthcare center seeks a nurse manager for a 20-bed spinal cord/head injury unit and a nurse manager for a 40-bed general unit. Requirements are BSN; master's preferred. The spinal cord/head injury unit manager must have 2-5 years experience in a spinal cord/head injury unit. Unique opportunity in a state-of-the-art facility. Contact Julia Huston, Chi Systems, Inc., 8420 W. Bryn Mawr Avenue, Chicago, IL 60631, 312/693-8824, fax 312/693-1739.

SCI NURSES SEEK FILM FESTIVAL ENTRIES

The American Association of Spinal Cord Injury Nurses is seeking entries for a film festival at its Annual Education Conference in Las Vegas, September 4-6, 1990.

Films must have been produced in the last 5 years to be eligible. Appropriate topics include patient, family, staff/professional, or community education about SCI; SCI prevention; sexuality; disabled rights/advocacy; care/treatment; research; recreation; vocational rehabilitation; and community reintegration.

The deadline for all entries is May 1, 1990. Application forms and film festival rules may be obtained from Film Festival, American Association of SCI Nurses, 75-20 Astoria Boulevard, Jackson Heights, NY 11370-1178.